Thornton's new Strategic Plan is moving forward

The Thornton City Council has adopted a new Strategic Plan to guide the work and resource allocation for the city. Throughout 2024 and 2025, the Thornton City Council, the city's Senior Leadership Team and employee representatives from across the city have collaborated to refine the city's vision, mission and values and to identify joint priorities to guide the future work of the City Council and Staff. The plan reflects feedback through the city's Resident Satisfaction Survey, multiple community-visioning and planning exercises, and review of existing efforts. The Strategic Plan will provide an important foundation to align the work of city staff, to identify opportunities for partnership, to prioritize future resources, and to measure success.

The plan includes four Strategic Focus Areas:

- Vibrant and Purposeful Development
- Connected Communities
- Safe, Supported, and Livable Community
- Organizational Excellence

The approved Strategic Plan includes 17 goals and 65 actions and the city is currently developing Operational Teams to guide implementation of the plan. You can learn more about the Strategic Plan by visiting the city's website at ThorntonCO.gov. Additional public resources regarding the Strategic Plan are under development and will become available soon so that the community can identify opportunities to contribute and to follow progress.

City Council Approves 2026 Budget

Thornton City Council approved a $634,082,614 budget plan for 2026. The goal of the 2026 budget is to advance the city towards goals stated in the four strategic focus areas of the recently adopted Strategic Plan, while remaining financially sustainable for the city. The approved budget is a balanced budget, which means that ongoing revenues meet or exceed ongoing expenditures. The budget does include the planned spending down of some of Thornton's fund balance in order to make one-time investments in capital projects.

The 2026 budget provides for a net addition of three full-time employees. Five additional positions are either conversions from contract or part-time or are positions that have been reallocated to a new function. The new positions will provide the following services:

- hiring an additional EMS Dispatcher to provide an increased response to emergency calls for service.
- converting three contract Co-Responder positions to full-time city employee positions which will promote wellness and safety in our community by providing effective and compassionate behavioral health response and intervention.
- hiring 3 additional firefighters to staff Engine 71 to continue implementation of four-person staffing on all engines.
- converting a temporary/part-time position to a full-time position for assistance with preparing lunches for our active adult lunch program.
- supporting the Arts & Culture division and programming with the addition of hours and conversion of a ¾ part-time position to full-time city employee.
- hiring a Senior Assistant City Attorney to provide prosecutorial services at the Thornton Municipal Court.

The 2026 budget provides for several one-time capital projects, including:

- the second year of a 5-year project to make improvements along the South Washington corridor
- widening of 104th Avenue,
- the addition of PFAS-removing improvements at the Thornton Water Treatment Plant,
- two large trail expansion projects: Big Dry Creek Trail from 136th Avenue to 144th Avenue, and
- the replacement of the Emergency Response CAD and Records Management System

This budget also provides for several ongoing or capital maintenance-type projects, including:

- continued investments in projects that will improve accessibility throughout the community
- street rehabilitation, which includes: paving, crack seal, and other road treatment projects,
- remediation of the Thornton Shopping Center site
- maintenance of the city's recreation facilities and parks, including: sport courts, sport fields, recreation facility equipment, swimming pool repairs, concrete repairs along trails, hazardous tree removal, etc.
- maintenance of water and sewer lines, hydrants, tanks, and valves throughout the city.

The city property tax mill levy will remain at the same level that it has been since 1989, which is 10.21 mills. A mill is equal to $1 in property tax, which is levied per every $1,000 of a property's assessed value. Therefore, for every $1000 dollars of assessed value for a property, the city collects $10.21 of property tax revenue annually.

As of January 1, new water rates are in effect

Information provided by ThorntonWater.com

New water rates are in effect for the new year. You can expect to see the changes reflected in your February utility bill. "Thornton Water is dedicated to maintaining the quality and reliability of your water 365 days a year," says Thornton Senior Water Resources Administrator Laura Wing. "To achieve this, water rates increase by a small amount each year – balancing affordability with the need for clean, reliable water for our community." Your water rates not only pay for the actual water running through your pipes, but for a complex water system that transports, stores, treats and delivers an average of 22 million gallons of drinking water to customers each day. Past water rate investments have included the AMI water meter upgrades, which now allow you to detect leaks early and manage your daily water use in the WaterSmart Portal at Thornton.WaterSmart.com.

In 2026, your water rate contribution will continue to support improvements and maintenance for the existing reservoirs, water treatment plants, distribution pipes, pump stations, storage tanks, hydrants, and technologies that run your water system. These upgrades and repairs are necessary to improve the safety and efficiency of Thornton's water infrastructure. The improvements also include the addition of a new PFAS treatment system at the Thornton Water Treatment Plant to meet new state and federal drinking water standards. This new system is slated to be operational in 2028. It's important to note that water rates do not contribute to system expansion for new customers across Thornton; expansion is funded through connection fees.

Your Thornton Water Rate Covers:

- Water Source Management
- Infrastructure Maintenance
- Water Treatment Plant Improvements
- Safe Drinking Water Requirements

Thornton launches Housing Choice Code update to expand affordable options

Information provided by Thornton City Development

Thornton's City Development Department has launched an effort to update its Housing Choice Code; a project aimed at expanding the variety of housing options available to residents and supporting the city's long-term housing goals.

The initiative focuses on identifying tools and policies to encourage the development of diverse housing types and to streamline the review process for qualifying projects. The goal is to make it easier to create homes for seniors, families, residents with disabilities, workers, veterans, and young people—ensuring that housing costs remain within reach.

Thornton defines "housing cost-burdened" households as those spending more than 30% of their gross income on housing expenses, including mortgage or rent, utilities, insurance, property taxes, and HOA or rental fees. You can learn more about the effort and share feedback through a brief survey at goCOT.net/development.

Thornton Begins Environmental Cleanup at Historic Thornton Shopping Center

Information provided by Thornton Economic Development

Environmental cleanup and excavation at the former Thornton Shopping Center at East 88th Avenue and Washington Street began in December. The once-thriving retail hub, built in the 1950s, was Thornton's first major shopping center. The first stores opened at the Thornton Shopping Center in May 1955, and included Woolworth's and Miller's Market, Thornton's first grocery store.

"Thornton Economic Development has worked with the community, and the Thornton Development Authority to revitalize the space and position it for a fresh start for future redevelopment," said Chad Howell, Thornton Redevelopment Administrator. "Removal and proper disposal of contaminated soil and other materials must be completed before the site can be rebuilt," said Howell. Active remediation is expected to continue through July 2026.

The work represents a major milestone in the long effort to bring the property back to life. "For decades, this site has been a cornerstone and a priority in our community," said Howell. "We're turning the corner toward a modern, productive redevelopment."

Thornton celebrates 70 years! Check out the 70th Anniversary History Exhibit

Information provided by ArtsThornton.com

When developer Sam Hoffman began building homes in 1954, he envisioned a thriving community that could stand on its own. Now, as Thornton approaches its 70th anniversary in May of this year, Hoffman's vision has become reality. You can see for yourself as the Thornton Arts & Culture Center Annex, 9211 Dorothy Blvd., brings our timeline to life in a special exhibit called Thornton Yesterday, Thornton Today, Thornton Tomorrow. # Safer streets ahead: Thornton's new red-light and speed cameras are now active

Information provided by Thornton Police Department

New red-light cameras and mobile speed vehicles are now operational, as part of Thornton Police Department's new automated traffic safety program. The effort is designed to reduce crashes, curb speeding, and make our streets safer for everyone. Red light cameras are now active at the intersections of: 88th Avenue and Washington Street, and 120th Avenue and Colorado Boulevard.

In addition, two mobile photo speed enforcement vehicles will rotate through areas that have a history of crashes or speed violations, including school zones. Thornton PD's goal isn't to hand out tickets, it's to encourage safer driving. During the program's 30-day warning period, drivers received warnings instead of fines, giving everyone a chance to adjust before full enforcement began. Fines are $75 for red-light violations, $40 for speeding in regular zones, and $80 in school zones.

All photos and videos are reviewed by Thornton Police staff before any citation is issued. Driver data is kept only as long as required by law and is permanently deleted afterward. "Speeding and red-light violations are two of the leading causes of serious crashes," said Police Chief Jim Baird. "If these cameras make drivers slow down or think twice before running a red light, they're doing exactly what they're meant to do."

Thornton partnered with Verra Mobility, a national leader in photo enforcement technology, to administer the program. To learn more about the program, visit ThorntonPD.org/cameras.

Thornton streamlines permit process with launch of City View Portal

Information provided by Thornton Development Engineering Division

Thornton has launched a new online system designed to make it easier for contractors and developers to apply for permits related to construction and traffic control in the public right-of-way.

All Development Engineering Right-of-Way (ROW) and Traffic Control permits can now be processed exclusively through the City View Portal, a streamlined, all-in-one platform for submitting applications, tracking status, making payments, and receiving approvals electronically. The new system consolidates three separate processes into one convenient online location.

Development Construction ROW Permits are required for any work performed within the city's right-of-way that isn't already covered under a property's construction permit, such as streetlight installations or dry utility connections for new or redevelopment projects.

Development Engineering Traffic Control Permits are needed when traffic control devices or warning signs are placed within the city's right-of-way for development-related work, helping ensure public safety and compliance with city standards during construction.

Contractors and developers can register and access the system at cityviewportal.ThorntonCO.gov. Step-by-step instructions and additional resources are available at goCOT.net/devconstructionpermits.

Mayor Jan Kulmann elected to the National League of Cities Board of Directors

Thornton Mayor Jan Kulmann was elected to the National League of Cities (NLC) Board of Directors by NLC's membership at the organization's 2025 City Summit in Salt Lake City, Utah. Kulmann will provide strategic direction and guidance for NLC's federal advocacy, governance and membership activities. Mayor Kulmann will also serve as the Chair for the Energy, Environment, and Natural Resources Committee.

"I am very excited and honored to serve on the Board of Directors for the National League of Cities and as the Chair for the Energy, Environment, and Natural Resources Committee. The work that NLC does on behalf of municipalities in our country is invaluable, says Kulmann. They are the voice of local governments before our federal delegations in Washington, D.C., and the NLC committees are often where innovative solutions to complex issues facing cities are first developed. I look forward to representing Thornton's interests at the national level while serving on NLC."

As the largest and most representative organization for cities, their elected leaders and municipal staff, NLC advocates for local government priorities in Washington by building strong federal-local partnerships. NLC Board members are selected by a 15-member nominating committee and are confirmed by a vote from NLC's membership at the organization's annual business meeting held in November. As a member of the board, Mayor Kulmann will meet in March, June and November to guide NLC's strategic direction.

"The Board of Directors creates the vision and direction for our more than 19,000 cities, towns and villages," said National League of Cities President Kevin Kramer, Councilmember, Louisville, Kentucky. "I am ready to dive into the details with this extraordinary group of local leaders as we support strong and thriving communities across America."

More than 3,000 mayors, councilmembers and other delegates from nearly every state, and the District of Columbia, convened in Salt Lake City, Utah, for NLC's annual City Summit. Local leaders remain on the frontlines of the nation's most pressing challenges and are working hard to pioneer innovative solutions that move our cities, towns and villages forward.

Keep stormwater clean while clearing snow and ice

Information provided by goCOT.net/stormwater

As winter lingers on, so do snowstorms—and the need to shovel driveways and melt ice. While salt is a quick and common fix, it can have lasting environmental impacts.

Traditional deicers, such as sodium chloride (halite), can damage freshwater ecosystems, harm plants, deteriorate concrete, and even stain carpets once tracked indoors.

For an eco-friendlier approach, consider products listed on the EPA's Safer Choice program, such as acetates, such as Premier Ice Melter, potassium chloride, or magnesium chloride, such as Safe Step Mag Chloride 8300.

To learn more about safer deicing options, visit epa.gov/saferchoice/products.

For information about protecting Thornton's stormwater quality, visit goCOT.net/stormwater or email StormwaterQuality@ThorntonCO.gov.

When it snows, snowplows hit the streets, so give them room to do their jobs!

Information provided by Thornton Infrastructure, goCOT.net/snow

Driving near snowplows requires extra caution, so as a driver, remember to slow down, give plows plenty of space and avoid passing on the right.

The safest place to drive is behind the plow, where the roadway has already been cleared. Thornton plows are equipped with wing blades that extend about 6 feet into the passenger-side lane, making right-side passing especially dangerous.

Drivers should stay at least 200 feet behind a plow, as the trucks spread sand and de-icing materials that can damage vehicles at close range. Plows may also stop abruptly. Motorists are urged to watch for the large blind spots on both sides and behind the truck; if a driver cannot see the operator in the mirrors, the operator likely cannot see them.

Snowplows often create a rolling "snow cloud," which can cause sudden whiteout conditions and hide the full expanse of the truck from view. So, avoid driving into this cloud or attempting to pass through it. Because plows typically travel between 25 and 35 mph, drivers are asked to be patient. Operators will pull over when it is safe to let traffic pass. On multi-lane highways, several plows may work together in a diagonal formation to clear all lanes at once. Passing or weaving through this formation is dangerous and often illegal.

Drivers should also use extra caution when meeting an oncoming plow on a two-lane road, moving as far right as safely possible to avoid debris and allow room for the plow's wide blade. Keeping headlights on, using low beams when approaching a plow at night, helps ensure the operator can see other vehicles. For more information, visit goCOT.net/snow.

Community efforts strengthen and support the Thornton Fire Museum

Information provided by Thornton Fire Department, goCOT.net/fire

The Thornton Fire Museum continues to take shape, thanks to community members committed to preserving the city's fire service history.

Wyatt Morrison, an aspiring Eagle Scout from Boy Scout Troop 67, recently completed a service project to support the museum, constructing fire-themed benches for visitors. Morrison coordinated and managed the project with help from his family and fellow Troop members. The new benches will serve as a meaningful addition to the museum's displays and visitor experience.

The Thornton Fire Department, with support from volunteers, continues to archive items donated by former firefighters and their families. Retired firefighters and members of the museum subcommittee also meet regularly and share information about the city's first museum at community events.

The Thornton Fire Museum is located inside the city's original fire station at 9451 Dorothy Blvd. For more information, visit goCOT.net/fire.
