This beautiful shrub rose is covered with clusters of small scarlet double roses in summer, continuing to bloom sporadically into fall. The irregular, trailing branches make this a nice mounding ground cover. One of the most vigorous growers in the Meidiland series this will make a nice addition to your landscape as a foundation planting or along a walkway. Even when not in bloom the glossy green foliage create a full, arching, and visually pleasing ground cover.

This wonderful, fanciful rose is slightly fragrant and can attract butterflies. It is disease resistant and grown on its own root stock. It prefers moderately moist to dry soils. And will tolerate a variety of soil types. An easy source of color in the urban landscape.
