This hawthorn is a small, thornless tree . It produces single white flowers in the spring and abundant bright red fruit in the late summer. The foliage is a dark glossy green and turn to a bronze red in the fall. The growth habit is rounded and it can give a distinct horizontal accent to your landscape.

This tree is drought resistant, and grows best in well drained soils. It needs full sun and is very disease resistant. This is a low maintenance tree that is great for small spaces.
