

Nature's Prairie Turf

This grass includes a blend of Junegrass and other fescues. This blend features grasses that grow slowly. It is adaptable to high pH soils and will tolerate some salt in the soil. Since it is comprised of prairie grasses, it is very adaptable to our dry climate. Other characteristics include:

- Good shade tolerance
- Low water useage
- Higher mowing height and frequency
- Fine texture, comfortable to walk on
- Tolerates foot traffic
- Quick spring green up and holds its color deep into fall
- Can survive dry periods with low supplemental water
